8 Top Prospects For Council Post

Some high level political strategem is going on behind the scenes in the effort to fill the vacuum created by resignation of City Councilman Paul Hupf two weeks ago.

Who are the contenders for the important "political plum"—a 2½ year term on the city council without the tribulations of running for office at an election?

As gathered by the staff of THE RECORD, here's the way the picture looks:

Two, perhaps three men have been or are the strongest contenders. That is, if there's to be an appointment at all, one of them is the likeliest prospect. The exception being, of course, that if no politically popular choice can be agreed upon, the council will resort to appointment of an "unknown," figuring there's less danger in this course than picking a controversial personality.

Two Votes Each

Two men have picked up two votes apiece at one time or another during the political chess game.

One is Tony Masini, a farmer and pioneer resident of Daly City. Masini is a member of the Daly City planning commission and generally respected in political circles.

His support of City Manager Howard Stites is doubtful and this is a big issue in the appointment, although seldom mentioned outwardly.

Mayor Joseph Verducci, Stites' strongest backer, will not approve an appointee who has been outspoken against the Stites' regime.

Reaching a dead end on the Masini appointment, debate then moved to Frank De Martini of Westlake, a strong backer of Councilman De Bernardi and member of the library commission. Again, the candidate got two votes, no more, presumably because of his stand against Stites.

The latest and apparently hottest prospect on the scene is Robert (Bobby) Cohn, owner of West Coast Shows, a professional lobbyist and chairman of the recreation commission.

Cohn, another Westlaker, seems to have the blessings of Councilman Del Wilson and could swing Verducci's vote, although Cohn has not publicly committed himself on the city manager issue.

Not to be discounted is former councilman Edward J. Dennis, who has an amazing rebounding ability. Dennis was once elected, once defeated, re-elected again and then defeated in the 1954 election by Paul Hupf. Dennis, however, finished third in the balloting for two positions, behind Hupf and Verducci.

Dennis is said to have the "sponsorship" of Councilman Sanford Vickers.

That's Not Limit

The list of prospects is by no means limited to these four men.

An 11th hour candidate proposed by Verducci was James Grealish, also of Westlake, a trucking firm executive. Grealish is active in the Westlake Catholic Men's club and well-liked in the area. Although in the category of an "unknown" politically, Grealish might be expected to carry support of his men's organization. Grealish is reportedly acceptable to at least one other councilman.

Also mentioned in the "free for all" race have been Ed Murphy, director of the Westlake Improvement association and active Men's club worker, and Joe Lewkowitz, school trustee and unsuccessful candidate in the 1956 municipal race. Although Lewkowitz was defeated, he made a strong showing in the '56 race, finishing fourth behind Dennis. Another unsuccessful council candidate, John Drye, defeated in the 1954 election, is another "longshot" in the race. Drye, a Westlake bread salesman, ran on a ticket with DeBernardi and Wilson in 1954.

Looking Ahead

A prime consideration in the race is the upcoming election in April, 1958, at which time De Bernardi, Wilson and Vickers will again face a test at the polls.

For whatever it's worth, councilmen feel that their appointment can make or break their future in office.

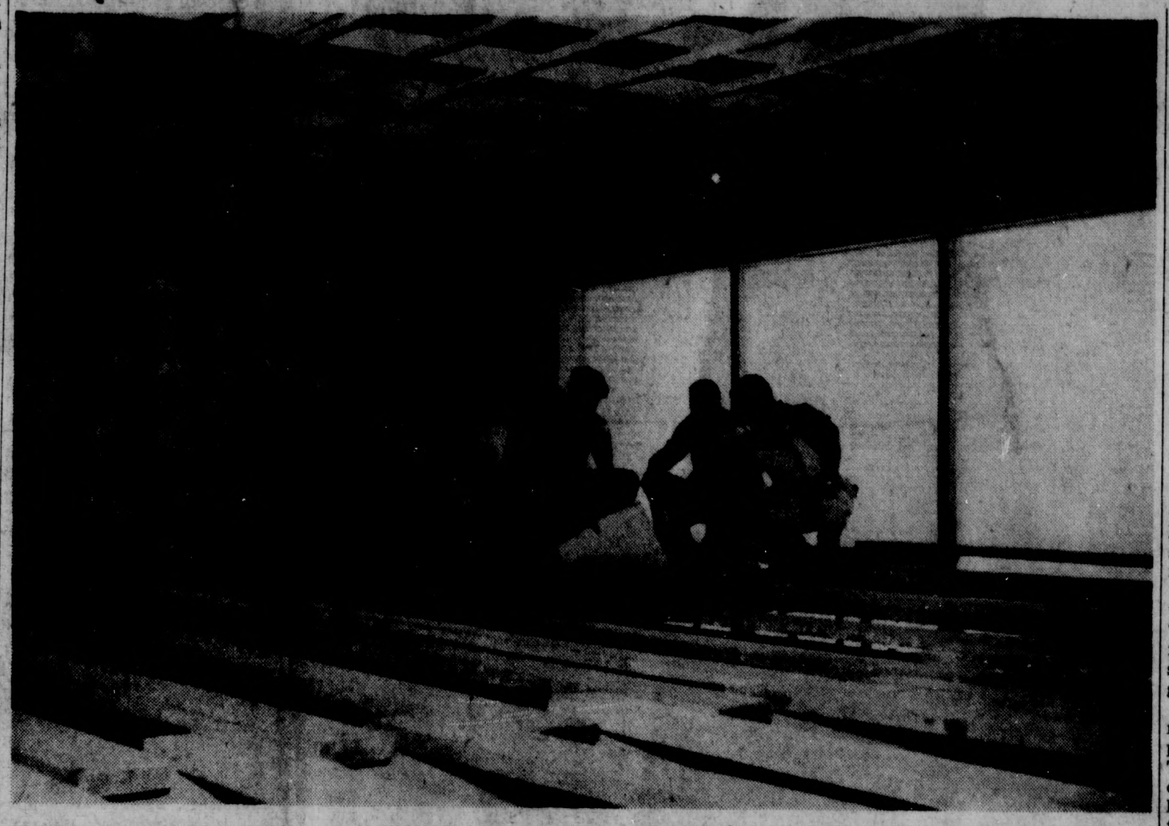
Another factor already mentioned is the Stites issue, tensely fought struggle, behind the scenes. Also an influence in determining the appointment is the mayoralty, which Verducci covets and which could presumably swing over to another councilman in the next months and, if not then, after the next election.

The culmination of the drawn-out political maneuvering may come at the special meeting the council has scheduled for October 9. The absolute deadline will be the regular council meeting the following Monday, October 14.

If the matter is still undecided after that date, the choice of a fifth councilman, by law, must be left up to the voters at a special election.

After 5 Years, DC 'Center' Nears Finish

RECORD BOND ELECTION TERMED 'MUST' BY JESD



AT LONG LAST the meeting rooms of the War Memorial community center take shape. Workmen from McGahey & Olson Co. are shown planning teen-age room on upstairs level of three-phase project, which will cost $47,000. Completion of the community center meeting room and special activities facilities has been delayed almost five years, after voters rejected a special bond issue in 1952 to finish the building. Recreation Director Dee Van Nest said that with completion of the upstairs room and two meeting rooms on the main floor in December, the community center would be 95 per cent complete. Lack of meeting space in past years has been the chief limitation of the building. Recreation commissioners are currently planning a schedule for use of the new rooms by community organizations.

Critical '58 Ballot Looms For Schools

Elementary school board trustees learned Wednesday night that the district will need a record bond election next spring to obtain funds for new school sites projected over a five-year period.

Asst. Supt. David Shapiro gave the lowdown in a marathon 5½-hour meeting, occupied primarily by discussion of "immediate action" to wrap up long-delayed negotiations.

Running Out

Shapiro said the district has only $1 million left from its last bond election, a $2,500,000 issue, to meet present site needs.

"We must move quickly for these sites," Shapiro advised, "and the bond issue is a must next year if we want more state aid to carry out our program."

The proposed bonds would require only a maximum repayment of 45 cents per $100. This factor and the recent 22.6 cents per $100 tax reduction here, shouldn't give residents too much concern as far as tax hikes are concerned next year.

Where It's Needed

The bond election would pave the way for funds to purchase three sites owned by Henry Doelger, three in the St. Francis Heights subdivision, for buildings on the General Pershing and Westlake Basin sites, and for projected schools on the Christensen property south of the St. Francis development.

Negotiations for all of these sites are in the "critical" category if the district is to avoid more double sessions in the immediate future.

The board, moving as swiftly as possible, Wednesday authorized the superintendent to get a "final" estimate from the Zita Corporation on the costs of three 10-acre sites in the St. Francis subdivision, including the amount the district must pay for improvements. This settlement should be firmed without too much more delay.

Doelger Confab

Trustees also called for a meeting with Henry Doelger for a commitment on three sites south of Alemany and a settlement of the Westlake basin deadlock.

One of Doelger's sites is south of Westmoor High. The second involves Westmoor high school property, necessitating a meeting with the high school administration for possible sale of some five acres.

A settlement looms on the Westlake basin problem since the district hopes to get a joint-use agreement with the City of Daly City on Westlake park. If the city agrees to let the basin school utilize seven acres of the park for school recreation use during class hours, Catholic officials will be able to negotiate with Doelger for

COUNTY ROADS PROBE

D.A. Does Turnabout, Will Prosecute Officials

Formal accusations against the five San Mateo county supervisors and county manager E. R. Stallings were filed in Judge Louis B. Dematteis' superior court Wednesday morning, setting the stage for the six officials' appearance in court October 11 to answer the charges.

Charges of willful misconduct in office for failure to properly supervise expenditure of road funds were made by the county grand jury last week. The county officials were served with the accusation Tuesday afternoon.

At the outset, it appeared doubtful the charges will stick, since District Attorney Keith Sorenson, the reluctant prosecutor in the case, only last week said the evidence was not sufficient to substantiate the accusation.

If charges were upheld, they would result in removal of the officials from office.

'Vote of Confidence'

Although given a "vote of confidence" by grand jurors Monday to proceed with the case, Sorenson still admitted that a defendants' motion to quash the charges would be "almost automatic."

Thus Sorenson finds himself in the position of prosecuting a case which he believes will not hold water in court. Attorney Gerard Wagstaffe, rep-

We thought former city attorney FRANK BLUM'S last official duty here, almost, was to prepare a resolution of commendation for himself before taking the superior judgeship.

New city attorney PAUL HUPF came to the rescue, however, and wrote Blum's commednation for duties as attorney.

Monday it came to light that what was probably Blum's last official act as city attorney was to prepare a resolution of commendation for Hupf for his services as a councilman. It was read and naturally, accepted by the council.

And that puts an end to the Council Will Try To Fill Post Oct. 9

Faced with an October 14 deadline to appoint a new councilman or call a special election, city fathers Monday scheduled an adjourned session for October 9 to fill the post vacated by Paul Hupf, now serving as city attorney.

Although the council post has been vacant nearly two weeks, the city officials appear no nearer naming a replacement for Hupf.

Since the council would not convene again in regular session until October 14, deadline to make the appointment, decision was made this week to hold the adjourned session on Wednesday, October 9.

There still appeared an even chance that the replacement would be put to a vote of the people, the council had reached a stalemate in four "executive" sessions to name the fifth member of the official family.

The person appointed to the council would fill out Hupf's unexpired term, which runs until April, 1960.

At least two prospective appointees have won backing of two councilmen, but the deadlock has been reached on the necessary third vote.

Politically, the appointment looms important because three

Closing Sewage Office Prompts Official Wrath

Councilman Sanford Vickers, former director on the sanitation district who was booted off his job by the present council, took umbrage Monday at the temporary closing of the sanitation district offices.

The offices have been closed for two weeks because the regular secretary, Marie Muylaert, is on vacation.

"I have the right to have access to records there," Vickers said angrily. "That office is public and should be open for business during regular hours."

Councilman Del Wilson, a sanitation district director, replied that closing of the office was a matter of economy. "We've saved taxpayers two weeks salary by not hiring a temporary replacement for the secretary," Wilson related.

Wilson addressed Vickers: "The only time you want to visit the sanitation plant is when the secretary is on vacation."

Mayor Joseph Verducci decreed that the sanitation district should set its own policy, although Vickers protested that, "the council has set sanitation district policy on other matters," referring to his firing from the board by the council.

ASIATIC VARIETY?

Flu Strikes 180 School Kids Here

Almost 180 of Daly City's public school children this week were stricken by what is believed the Asian-type flu bug, according to administrators.

Strangely, the influenza virus was scattered throughout the city, confusing health authorities as to its spreading pattern here.

Some 94 elementary school children, mainly east of Junipero Serra boulevard, are absent from classes. Biggest incidence west of the boulevard was at Westmoor High, where 80 students were reported missing.

Supt. Ed Morgan of the high school district said that while about seven percent of Westmoor's population was affected, attendance of Jeff High was better than normal. Only a few absences at the older school were attributed to the flu.

Elementary Supt. H. Z. Weibel gave the following breakdown on flu cases by schools, reported to him "somewhat sketchily" late Wednesday:

Woodrow Wilson, 22 pupils; General Pershing, 17; Ben Franklin, 15; Colma K-6, 13; Thornton, 7; Crocker, 6; Colma Intermediate, 5; Garden Village, 5, and Jefferson, 4.

There were no cases reported involving students from Westlake and Olympia schools.

The Asian flu can only be distinguished from normal influenza by use of blood tests. Whether the DC cases are of the Asian type is unknown at press time.

At a meeting Wednesday night with county health officials, Mrs. Helen Delafield, JESD health coordinator, and other Peninsula school district representatives were told to intensify their daily attendance surveys in order to keep a close watch on flu incidence. Appropriate measures will be taken if the virus reaches epidemic proportions.

W'moor 'Delay' Nears Showdown

High school trustees next month will determine whether or not Contractor Dick Meyer will be paid for a delay of almost four months in completing Westmoor high school.

Supt. Ed Morgan said today the contractor should be finished with the school in about two weeks. Under a 124-day extension granted Meyer in January, the builder had until June 24 to finish the school.

Meyer's pay for the work since the second deadline could be ruled out if trustees feel the new extension is unjustified.

Another Change

The board, in regular session Monday night, okayed the seventh change order on the Westmoor project, bringing the total cost of the plant to $2,533,702.88.

The meeting, hampered by the absence of trustees Lyal Ingersoll and Ray Whitney, lasted only a little more than an hour. Chairman Elio Fontana said he had to cut the session short because he was under a doctor's care for a heavy cold.

Morgan reported that the district is quite concerned about the state's plans for Highway 1 in Sharp Park, cutting into the third high school site. He met with Elwood Lehman, state school planning representative, and Robert Summers, state division of highways, last week to discuss the problem.

Will Cut Acreage

Under the present state Highway projection, Highway 1 will take about four and a half acres off the district's Sharp Park elementary school. Lehman said he hopes state highway officials will "reimburse" the school district by providing the same number of "useable" acres in the area.

Morgan said the possibility

DALY CITY GETS ONE DELEGATE ON CHARTER GROUP

Daly City did get one representative on the county charter study committee, but supervisors inadvertently listed him as a Colma resident when they announced the appointment last week.

Daly City member of the committee which will make recommendations for amending the county charter is Joseph Altieri, 160 Mateo avenue. Altieri is listed as a Colma resident in the phone book.

Edmund Cavagnaro, recreation commissioner, brought the matter to the city council's attention Monday, charging that even one representative was "not enough." He said the council should "make itself heard" before supervisors.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said the matter of charter committee representation for the north county would be taken up at the next meeting of the North County Council of Cities.

Bocci To Emcee Blum Testimonial

Municipal Judge Thomas Bocci, once considered top candidate for the superior judgeship, will act as master of ceremonies for the testimonial dinner honoring Frank Blum, who won the San Mateo county upper court appointment.

The dinner event will be held October 29 at Lake Merced Golf and Country club.

Chairman of the testimonial is Peter Markovich. Tickets, $7.50 a copy, may be obtained by contacting him.

Ban On Burning Won't Hit DC Hard—Kennedy

The ban against open dump burning will be put into effect Tuesday by the Bay Area Air Polution Control district, but the edict will have little effect on Daly City, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Kennedy said he has learned that the anti-burning order will not affect the city's current program to clean off weed infested lots.

Exceptions to the prohibition against open burning include work to reduce fire hazards, agricultural burning to destroy pests, and trash burning for single and two-family dwellings. Outdoor barbecues are also permissable.

Kennedy said that he knew of no commercial enterprises in Daly City engaging in open dump burning at this time. Daly City Scavengers, who used to dispose of garbage by burning on the Zanone land outside Daly City, will soon move into their new fill and cover dump site on the Coastside, which was purchased by the company to comply with the new burning ban.

Cities that will be most severely hit by the district order will be areas such as San Francisco, Emeryville and South San Francisco, where there is large scale outdoor burning by commercial enterprises and scavenger companies.

The fire chief said that the air pollution control district, created in an effort to minimize smog, will call on local fire and health departments to help it enforce its anti-burning decree.

Daly City's weed-burning program is nearly complete, Kennedy said. Some 550 of the 700 vacant lots have been cleaned of debris and weeds. Charges to property owners for the service will be about $5 apiece, according to Public Works Director Otis Calhoun, and total bill for the clean-up work will run between $3500 and $4000.

Final OK: Meat Sales After 6 p.m.

An ordinance which will allow the sale of fresh meat after 6 p.m. and on Sundays was adopted by the city council Monday night.

The measure, which will become effective 30 days from time of adoption, passed by a 3-1 vote. Councilman Sanford Vickers opposed removing restrictions on meat sales.

At the same time, councilmen unanimously adopted a resolution proposed by Vickers urging San Mateo county to adopt a uniform ordinance governing hours of meat sales. This, Vickers said, would allow regulated inspection of meat, since no markets would be open beyond a specified time. This would also eliminate the competitive advantage one market might have over another because of extra hours of meat sales, Vickers added.

about 10 acres on the 18.6 acre basin site.

The basin site is under condemnation, but trustees believe Doelger will negotiate. Everything, of course, hinges on the joint-use tieup between the city and school district.

Basin School

The district needs part of the basin site for a two kindergarten 12-classroom school and an administrative unit. Six more classrooms also may be added later.

The General Pershing site quest, hampered by San Francisco's protest against the JESD for "invading three acres of our territory," faces a second showdown October 7 when the state allocations board meets in Los Angeles.

The state board "denied" the initial SF protest recently in Sacramento, by deadlocking 3-3, thus upholding its earlier stand that the full 10-acre site was acceptable and that funds would be forthcoming.

A last-minute change of policy, however, announced by John Peirce, state director of finance, hinted that the state would not release the funds for the 10-acre site "until a mutually satisfactory arrangement could be worked out with SF officials.'

Peirce veiled his message with the statement that "unless that portion of Hanover street (on the SF side) were closed completely, it would undoubtedly interfere with your (JESD) utilization of the site."

JESD officials feel that San Francisco is still not willing to change its campaign to get the state to lop off the three acres in SF territory.

commendation commotion for a while, at least. And that's commendable.

Still with the council: Monday night the city dads came to an item on the agenda marked Ordinance 458, repealing ordinance 162 and 376.

Councilman DEL WILSON blithely asked, "what's this ordinance about?"

Turned out it was the legislation to repeal the 6 p.m. meat sale law, for which Wilson has been campaigning vigorously these many months and which was introduced by Wilson originally.

Seen back in town this week, but only for a visit, was Mrs. MILDRED McGEEIN and hubbie. Mrs. is the former Jefferson High School district trustee. The couple are now living in Alhambra, and have no regrets and a good suntan.

Our informants inform that spirit is very low at the Jefferson High plant, even though the youngsters are off double sessions this year.

The green-eyed problem seems to be the spanking new Westmoor plant with its modern new facilities, which look awfully good beside the more elderly Jefferson institution.

Indicative of the feeling, two first string football hopefuls quit the varsity last week to "work."

of a split high school campus, with one half located on the west side of the highway, was discussed. Summers indicated the state might be willing to build a pedestrian tunnel under the highway to provide high school students safe access to both sides of their campus. Morgan said if the split campus plan was adopted, the Laguna Salada district would be contacted for joint-use of playground facilities west of the highway.

The state's alternate plan for Highway 1, utilizing Old County Road, would mean the highway would cut right into a choice subdivision. And if the district had to move south to make up for acreage lost to the Highway, some 70 homeowners might be affected. Morgan said both of these possibilities are impractical.

Morgan added that the October 16 public meeting in Pedro Valley by the state highway division on Highway 1 plans should give us some more definite information."

In other business, Monday, trustees:

1. Ordered a survey by architect to determine costs of curbs, gutters and sidewalks on Westmoor avenue and Edgemar road at Westmoor High.

2. Reviewed Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy's inspection report on Westmoor High.

3. Heard that the district's Point 1 program for mentally retarded children will be delayed until a qualified teacher is hired.

Were instructed to submit nominations of local citizens to help the College of San Mateo select a north county junior college site.

5. Approved hiring a night watchman for weekend duty at Westmoor.

6. Granted teachers the privilege of having their membership dues in professional organizations deducted from their pay checks.

7. Tabled consideration of salary raises for swimming staff at Jefferson High requested by Michael Orlich. Orlich is expected to attend the next board meeting.

8. Transferred $2237.10 to Jefferson and Westmoor student body funds from the district's cafeteria fund. District attorney ruled that the money rightly belongs to the students.

of the councilmen now serving come up for election in April, 1958, and are anxious to name an appointee who will carry with him the greatest number of votes.

Also at issue is City Manager Howard Stites' tenure. Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, long an avowed foe of Stites, would prefer to select an appointee in sympathy with his stand against Stites.

Mayor Joseph Verducci, Stites' staunchest backer, obviously will not approve any replacement who has expressed himself against the city manager.

The "horse-trading" then gets complicated because Councilmen Sanford Vickers and Del Wilson each have their "favorite sons" to carry into the race.

Gators Go South To Tackle Aztecs In Grid Opener

San Francisco State opens its 1957 football season against San Diego State this Saturday in the San Diegan's Aztec Bowl. Kickoff is at 8 p.m.

After last week's 32-13 test run victory over the San Quentin eleven, the Gators should be in near-perfect condition to take on the host squad.

Despite San Diego's 32-6 defeat at the hands of College of Pacific, they are considered favored to handle the San Franciscans.

In fact all reports state that the Aztecs are stronger than their defeat to COP indicates. No doubt they will be out to give the visiting team a lesson in southern hospitality.

Meanwhile, the Lake Merced gridders are out to avenge last year's 26-6 thumping and 1955's 7-6 San Diego win.

Judge Bocci Fines Wild 'Marksmen' $25

Two young San Francisco target-shooters who periled Westlake residents with a bullet barrage on September 18 were fined $25 each in municipal court this Thursday.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci told Robert Collins, 23, and George Yasser, 25, to make sure their "marksmanship" was legal next time.

Raymond Thomas, 204 Pacific avenue, Sharp Park, was fined $100 and ordered to make restitution for $270 in damages he caused September 15 when he was arrested for disturbing the peace on San Pedro Road.

Mrs. Helen Dobbs, 213 Knowles avenue, forfeited $25 bail on a drunk arrest.

New Subdivision Maps Approved After Brief Row

age and drainage facilities.

Councilman Sanford Vickers argued that the city "has had trouble before by not taking care of these matters."

Chris McKeon, head of the Zita Corporation, developers of the new subdvision, countered that Vickers remarks showed "a little inexperience" on the councilman's part. According to McKeon, such facilities as drains and sewage lines are never listed in a tentative map but always in the final map. McKeon said that changes in contours of the streets from the period between adoption of tentative and final map could have great effect on location of any drainage or sewage installations.

"Every Precaution"

City Manager Howard Stites assured Vickers that, "We'll take every precaution to determine that all facilities are provided for before the final map is accepted."

Mayor Joseph Verducci commented that Vickers arguments were "just wasting time as long as the subdivision ordinance is complied with."

On a roll call vote, Vickers went along with the rest of the council in approving tentative maps.

Next step for the subdividers is preparation of final maps to the planning commission and council. George McKeon, an executive in the Zita organization, predicted last week that his firm would be building homes in 45 days if all went well.

Approval of the tentative map included stipulation that relocation of Edgemar road would be definitely determined before final maps would be passed.

In other action Monday, the council:

Commercial Zone

1. Approved commercial zoning for Zanone Lands in the St. Francis Heights development but withheld action on the nearby Schenone property, also up for C-1 status.

2. Introduced an ordinance granting multiple-dwelling zoning for property adjacent to the Villa Sanitarium on 130 Vale street, after closing public hearing on the request. The zoning will allow expansion of the sanitarium.

3. Adopted ordinance which will enable the council to set the pay for duties of deputy tax collector, a job which will be turned over to City Clerk Evelyn Mosman. The council is expected to grant her $50 a month for this service.

4. Approved agreement with county for library services.

New Businesses

5. Arrpoved business licenses for: F. Leonard Nurmi and Joe Baker, operating Triumph Motors, 6601 Mission street; and Albert L. Jones, doing business as Jones Motor Sales, 7300 Mission street.

6. Authorized expenditure of $550 to construct water line to Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin playfields. Water rate which will be charged the school district will depend on how much additional San Francisco water the city must purchase to supply the playfields, councilmen decided.

7. Set October 9 at 6 p.m. as time for dinner meeting, with recreation commission to discuss location of parks in the Westlake and St. Francis Heights tracts. The meeting will be held at Copperwood Lodge.

LIONS GOLF MEET DEADLINE MONDAY

Monday is the deadline for duffers who want to join the DC-Colma Lions golf squad for its annual grudge battle next Thursday in Sharp Park against the Coastside Lions.

The tee-off is at noon, with scoring to be determined by the Calaway system.

Local Lions should call Sam Felser, PL 5-4321, for additional details.

The Coastside hackers won the team trophy last year.

Colma Student, 8, Charged With Knife Attack On Boy, 14

An eight-year-old fourth grade student at Colma school was questioned for assault with a deadly weapon here Friday night after he allegedly stabbed a neighborhood youngster with a switchblade knife.

Victim of the knifing was Paul Padilla, 14, of 659 Florence street. He was removed to Junipero Serra hospital with a deep gash on his left forearm.

The injured youth told officers his brother was being "threatened to fight" outside the Padilla home. When Paul intervened, the eight-year-old pulled out the knife, he said.

Officers released the Colma student to the custody of his parents.

Westmoor Quintets Swept By Lincoln In Practice Tilts

Westmoor's cagers came off second best in their practice opener with Lincoln of SF's 10's and 20's teams this week.

Despite center Terry Christman's 14 points, the Ram 10's fell, 32-29, as the young Links rallied in the last half.

Westmoor's 20's went down, 37-23. Guard Tissier was top scorer for the losers with nine points.

The Rams played Mission of SF on Wednesday in another practice game. Westmoor opens PAL play next Tuesday afternoon in San Mateo. Their second league encounter is next Thursday against Jefferson on the Indians' court.

Tony Giammona is coaching the Ram 20's. Byron Van Alstyne calls strategy for the 10's.

Nab Jeff Athlete As 'Peeping Tom'

A 17-year-old former Jefferson High track star was released to the custody of his parents Sunday night after police questioned him on suspicion of being a "peeping Tom."

The juvenile, now attending college, admitted he was loitering around the home of Lois J. Anderson, 25, of 65 Crocker avenue.

Officers recommended "psychiatric treatment" when they returned the boy to his parents.

Lt. Col. R. Smith In Surprise Visit

Mrs. Ronald Smith, 258 Templeton avenue, had a surprise visit from her youngest son, Lt. Col. Grant R. Smith, over the weekend.

Smith landed at Moffet Field from Yuma, Ariz., where he will be stationed with his squadron for maneuvers. He is now stationed at McGhee Tyson airbase in Tennessee.

The airman recently received a commendation from headquarters for his "excellent 18-month accident free flying record."

Thief Labors Long, But Achieves Little

A battery from a three-wheeled motorcycle and asscrted tools were all a hard-working burglar escaped with late Sunday evening in a raid on Triumph Motors, 6601 Mission street.

Leonard Nurmi, the used car dealer, said the visitor entered via the back way and toured the upstairs office before invading the main showroom. The culprit apparently tried to use an acetylene torch to pry open several locked equipment drawers.

resenting the accused officials, is expected to make full use of Sorenson's conflicting position.

Grand jurors last week considered hiring an outside attorney to handle the case, but put the matter back in Sorenson's lap Monday. The state attorney general's office is still reviewing the case, at request of the jurors, but will not have a report available for af least three weeks.

The October 11 hearing will be the first step in the removal-from-office proceedings, at which time the county officials will answer the accusation.

Road Projects

The charges stem from expenditure of some $725,000 on road projects over a period of years by former county engineer M. A. Grant.

The accusation asserts that supervisors and Stallings allowed roads to be constructed without regard for traffic counts, as required by the charter, and juggled road funds to complete unbudgeted projects.

A civil action to obtain a portion of the money spent is already pending against Grant, who is vacationing in Mexico.

Other absentees who may make holding of the October 11 hearing difficult are Supervisor Thomas Callan of Colma, who is just returning from a European jaunt and plans to attend the World Series next week; Supervisor William Werder, who also plans to attend the World Series; and Stallings, who says he'll be away on vacation next month, although he'll be available on six hours notice.

Grant Ouster

Ray Higgins, foreman of the grand jury, has strongly recommended that Grant be removed from his position on the county planning commission, a post given him by supervisors following his resignation as engineer last spring.

Grand jurors will convene again next Monday and are expected to unearth more political "hot potatoes" before closing out their service at the end of the year.

One item still in committee is the allegation that Callan has received preferential treatment in the assessment of his extensive property holdings. Several golf clubs have charged that Callan property adjacent to their country clubs is assessed for tax purposes at a much lower level.

House Ransacking Nets Burglar $360

A "professional type" burglar made off with cash and jewelry valued at $360 Thursday night when he ransacked the home of Lawrence Hider, 430 Templeton avenue.

The victim, a 31-year-old grocery store owner, said the invader must have entered through the garage door, presumably with a pass key or by picking the lock.

The loot included $52 in bills and change, a man's wristwatch, and a ring.

Business statistics professor finds

"Gas and Electricity cost less than in 1936!"

Professor William Spurr, of the Stanford Graduate School of Business, has made a study of the cost of living in California. His findings show that while the over-all cost of living has doubled since 1936, the average cost of a unit of P. G. and E. gas and electricity is down below 1936 levels.

Your increased usage has made mass production economies possible. Your total bill may be more because you're using more appliances, but the average prices you pay are far less.

These facts point out an important advantage to living in California. With gas and electricity so cheap, you can afford to live better . . . to let gas and electricity do more of your housework and bring you more of life's pleasures.

HIGHWAYS GROUP MARCHES ON

Somewhere, some day, Junipero Serra boulevard will attain freeway status through Daly City.

Nobody knows exactly where or when except the state division of highways, and they aren't telling.

The highways people are consistent. Their silence on matters of this type is legend.

On two instances the highway people have summoned meetings on the freeway location, but both times they waited until just a day or two before the meeting to announce it, precluding any chance of attendance by representatives of weekly newspapers and citizens with interests in the new route. And they divulged next to nothing at these token meetings.

And yet a few major property owners and private engineers always manage to acquire advance data on the freeway location, sometimes to their distinct advantage and to the detriment of schools, cities and smaller land owners.

We can understand the state's discreet attitude on routes when the freeway plans are subject to constant change. Every major freeway project requires lengthy negotiations for acquisition of millions of dollars worth of property.

But when a route is for all practical purposes resolved, we feel that people to be affected by the major thoroughfare should be apprised of its location.

The state's practice has been to announce the freeway locations at a time when nothing short of a federal court order can change them.

Public hearings on the finalized routes are little more than formalities, after the militant highway group has virtually closed the door on any appeal by cities, schools or property owners.

The new Junipero Serra freeway could bisect the City of Daly City. It could have a profound effect on the business life of Junipero Serra as we now know it. It could create untold traffic problems for Daly City, already a "doormat" for traffic bound to and from San Francisco.

We would like to know just what the state highway department has in store for Daly City. And we'd like to know before the Junipero Serra freeway dedication ceremonies are held.

350 At Westmoor High X-Rayed; CSF Charts Fall Semester Plans

By Doris Lindfors

Westmoor High School's nurse, Mrs. Phyllis Colbert, reports that 350 students and faculty members were x-rayed Wednesday when the mobile unit from the San Mateo County Tuberculosis Association visited the school. All seniors, varsity athletes, faculty members and classified personnel received their annual x-rays at this time.

The sergeant-at-arms assisted association personnel in distributing necessary cards to the persons concerned.

Westmoor's newly organized California Scholarship Federation, under the direction and sponsorship of Miss Evelyn Slater, English department head, has begun formulating plans for the new school year. A tour of a nearby university is one item on the agenda.

Members of the CSF, by classes, include:

Seniors: Don Brunette, Nancy Goldkuhl, Dennis Hill, Marcelline Jadinak, Peggy Jones, James Lansing and Linda Logan.

Juniors: Susan Damon, Allene Downey, Kenneth Franges, Paul Hoag Jr., Gordon Kvamme, Barbara Mitchell, David Rusell, Michael Silberstein, Sandra Smith, Gaye Stromgren, Nicola Whitney and Claudia Williams.

Six of the seniors are eligible to be seal bearers this year. This honor is given to the senior who has been scholastically eligible for CSF during four semesters, including at least one semester in the senior year. This honor is so marked on the diploma of the graduating senior.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

It's been a confused week. First we intended to review Nevil Shute's "On the Beach," then decided that the social phenomenon known as Opening Night at the Opera would be more lively. Then found out it was too late for this.

It's always dangerous to change your mind; you find out how easy it is, and pretty soon you're where we are now—overdue at the deadline and nothing but a blank piece of paper in the typewriter and a state of mind to match.

Our heart was in the right place on that book review. We had checked with the Daly City Library and the Westlake Branch, and found there is considerable interest in Shute's grim tale of a future that promises nothing except the ultimate solution to all problems.

Too Many People

Before we got around to putting our thoughts on paper, we remembered Opening Night. In the past, thanks to the patience of our Editor in holding our space, we have been able to join the dailies in their almost hysterical coverage of this event. Alas, this requires planning, and this year we blithely filed our copy for Opening Night week without noting the date. So, although a bit late, here are a few drops from the year's biggest social and musical splash.

There was the usual stuffy feeling that three times too many people had been crammed into the opera house. There was the customary handful of truly distinguished gowns worn by ladies who were likewise. In contrast, some "social butterflies" had forgotten to emerge from their cocoons. (This remark will be intelligible to feminine readers only). "Turandot" played the lower half of the bill. We crawled home exhausted.

"Helen Morgan"

But not too exhausted to catch a preview of Paramount's "Desire Under the Elms" the following evening. Not yet in its final shape, it gives promise of being a prestige film which will appeal to the selective of all ages. Based on Eugene O'Neill's grim play, it has an extraordinary performance by Burl Ives.

With another opera Friday night, we just didn't have the strength Thursday to see a screening of Paramount's "The Helen Morgan Story," starring Ann Blyth. This would have been more timely (it opens September 27 at the Paramount), and would have given us something for next week's column. But it would have required planning, and as we said, it's been a confused week.

Strictly For Veterans

By Grace J. Hill

Many veterans have found the government pension check they could draw for a non-service connected, but total, disability, to be larger than their entitlement to compensation, for a relatively lesser service - connected disability. Usually, they filed for the more generous benefit, as was their privilege. But with compensation rates due to go up 10 per cent or more on October 1, these veterans may want to review their status.

One difference between compensation and pension—besides the cause of the disability which establishes entitlement—is that a non-service connected disability pension to a World War I or II or Korea veteran is payable only if the veteran's income does not exceed $1400 a year without dependents, or $2700 if he has dependents. A pension, moreover, hinges on total, permanent disability.

It was also pointed out that an ex-serviceman qualified for either benefit, who may be entitled to Social Security pay after age 50, may be claiming compensation, draw his full Social Security benefit without running into the "offset" provision of the Social Security law. A deduction is charged against income from the pension but any compensation is is exempt.

Another case that calls for switching back from pension to compensation is that of the ex-service man sentenced to panel confinement for longer than 60 days. He would lose his pension check after the sixtieth day. But his compensation payments would keep right on coming.

Unit Activities

El Camino Post and Unit 694, American Legion, will hold a dance on Saturday evening, October 5th, in Colombo Hall, Colma. For an enjoyable evening, be sure to attend.

Lake Merced Unit 9921, VFW, will receive Alice Foulks, district vice president, for inspection, at their regular meeting October 8th. The unit will also be host at the council meeting in Redwood City on October 9, when District President Marga Schweizer will make her inspection. Attending will be La Nilta Dunn, Rose Fisher, Hazel Eagleton and Stella Magoon.

Daly City Unit 410, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold it's regular meeting, October 2, in Daly City Legion Hall. Plans will be completed for hosting the 26th District meeting October 11. Mrs. Frances Connolly, of San Mateo, is district president. The annual School of Instruction will be held October 8 in the San Francisco Veterans' Building. Officers and chairmen from all local units will attend. State officers and chairmen will present outlines of the many programs for the coming year.

The 26th District meeting of the American Legion will be held in San Carlos Legion Hall, October 4. Reports from the delegates to the national convention will be heard at that time. John S. Gleason Jr., of Chicago, was elected national commander.

Smith, retiring chef. T. Louis Chess will be master of ceremonies. Many legionnaires and their wives from this locality will attend.

Passports

A record number of passports were issued to Californians during the first half of 1957, the California State Automobile Association reports. Over 46,000 were issued, a 4.8 per cent increase over the same period last year.

JUNIOR COLLEGE

Many Good Reasons For Backing Bonds

"When your children are ready for college . . . will your college be ready for them?"

This is the theme of the campaign to win an overwhelming vote of approval for the College of San Mateo's $5,900,000 bond issue to establish a unified campus and acquire a north county site for future expansion, set for balloting Tuesday, October 15th.

This decision was made when representatives from every city in the junior college district met at College House on the Coyote Point Campus to "kick-off" the campaign for a yes vote on the college.

Presiding over the meeting of more than 100 citizens was Kenneth W. Van Gundy, district manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, general chairman of the citizens' committee.

Van Gundy outlined the nine months of effort which the Citizens Advisory Committee had put in establishing the necessities of educating the avalanche of high school students which is now approaching graduation and the importance of having a college where these young people may extend their education.

"For 35 years the College of San Mateo has done an outstanding job under extremely adverse physical conditions, and no bond issue has ever before been asked to provide facilities for the college," Van Gundy said.

Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president of the college, pointed out the extreme emergency which the college faces with more than 3000 students now occupying the space originally provided for 500 Merchant Marine cadets, plus a few facilities at Delaware.

He stressed the fact that with the high assessed valuation of the college district and the excellent financial position which the college has attained by frugal operating policies; the district is in the best position in years to go ahead with the unified campus program and acquisition of a North County site.

George McQueen explained the use of campaign materials and said that the voluntary efforts of everyone on the committee were vitally essential to getting the facts before the people. "If the people have the facts, they will vote for this measure because it is a sound, practical and economical solution of a major community problem that must be met," he declared.

'More The Merrier'

JEFF ADULT SCHOOL CLASSES REALLY JAMMED, WILL EXPAND

Overcrowded classes are not limited just to the day schools. The Jeff Adult Evening School is experiencing the same situation in at least two different locations.

On the coast, although only in session one week, the clothing class at Sharp Park had to open an additional night to accommodate all students. Classes will now meet Mondays and Wednesdays at the Sharp Park school. Although not closed yet, it is anticipated that both the art classes on the Coast will reach their quota by the end of next week.

At the Jefferson campus, the driver education class exceeded its quota on opening night and immediately started registering for the second session to begin on October 23. Basic English, a course for the foreign born, had to be expanded into two additional sessions because of popular demand. Registration for the new courses in bookkeeping and accounting, as well as United State History will close out next week.

Only one class at the Westmoor campus has reached the overcrowded stage, although the others are not far behind. However, according to Director John Ivan this is no cause for worry since there are ample facilities for expansion in these classes. Registrations will still be accepted in all classes at all campuses for another couple of months, according to Ivan.

Those interested in public speaking, shop classes, blue print reading, shorthand, typing and mechanical drawing still have space and time within which to register. Classes in swimming and posture and excercise will not be available until Wednesday, October 2.

For the first time in its 30 years of operation, the Jeff Adult Evening School is looking forward to its first graduating class. So far, about 25 students have applied for the diploma course and of these about a half dozen should be ready for their diploma. According to District Superintendent Ed Morgan, graduates from the Adult School can look forward to obtaining their diploma in a special ceremony marked with the same solemnity and dignity accorded other graduates.

It's Okay, Judge, This Guy 'Wanted' To Face The Music!

Elbert Eldridge Lawson, 32-year-old Daly City teamster, almost "asked" to be arrested just past midnight last Friday.

Police at first were extremely polite. Then they obliged Lawson and booked him on a drunk charge.

Lawson's wife called officers to the home, 438 Winchester street, and said her husband was causing a disturbance.

Officers Frank Murray and Ralph Warren advised Lawson to quiet down, stay home, and "things will work out okay."

Lawson insisted that he was going to leave the house.

"Go ahead and arrest me," said he. "I've been in jail before."

The teamster was later released on $25 bail. Judge Bocci will finalize the incident in municipal court Tuesday.

Jeff Student Held After Theater Fight

Police hauled a 14-year-old Jeff High youth to the station Sunday afternoon following a brief scuffle at the Serra theater during which the belligerent lad struck and allegedly threatened two other teenagers with a switchblade knife.

The Jeff student admitted hitting both boys with his fists "because they wouldn't stay away from my girl." He denied having a knife, however.

The instigator of the fracas was turned over to his parents. Fortunately, he had no previous record of delinquency.

State Parks

Over $65 million was spent on state parks last year, reports the California State Automobile Association. Only $15 million was spent in 1946.

'Responsibility' Of Schools Told By Supt. Tormey

James Tormey, county superintendent of schools, today announced that administrators and teachers are extremely concerned and well prepared to meet the increased incidence of danger to school children—particularly by sex offenders.

Tormey, in a bulletin on the responsibility of the schools, said state and local codes particularly specify that children shall be under constant supervision at all times.

"Principals and teachers shall exercise careful supervision over moral conditions in their respective schools. Gambling, immorality, profanity, the use of tobacco, narcotics and intoxicating liquors on school grounds or elsewhere on the part of pupils will not be tolerated," according to the California Schools Administrative Code.

The state code also includes the statement, "Every teacher shall hold pupils to a strict account for their conduct on the way to and from school, on the playgrounds, or during recess."

"Each teacher shall endeavor to impress upon the minds of students the principles of morality, truth, justice and patriotism; to teach them to avoid idleness, profanity and falsehood; to instruct them in the principles of free government and to train them to have true comprehension of the rights, duties and dignity of American citizenship."

LIPMAN SCHOOL STUDENTS VIE FOR OFFICES

With less than two weeks of the new school year behind them the Lipman school in Brisbane is already buzzing with activity. The students are campaigning for their favorite candidates for school officers. This Friday they will cast their ballots to elect a new president. Those running for this office are Penny Richner, Larry Burke, and Eddie McGinnis. For vice-president they must choose between Ricky Gwin, Noel Narlock, and Jo Ann Blanchard. The third office, that of secretary, will be a close contest between the incumbent, Jo Ann Long, and Diane Coney and Sandra Gylfe.

Besides this activity there are before-school classes in parliamentary procedure, at which all nominees for both student body and class officers are under strict obligation to attend.

The school library is not being neglected, with a goodly number of embryonic librarians trying out for the staff. There are some eight or nine clubs open for student membership.

Letters To The Editor

Newspaper Gets Pat-On-The-Back By Parishioners

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

George Calegari, general chairman for the Fall Festival at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, has asked me to express the Festival Committee's appreciation of The Record's co-operation in publicizing this affair. That people really read and enjoy The Record was pointedly brought home to the Festival Committee by the many visitors who came to the Festival attracted by the articles and pictures published by the paper. Again and again, the words "read it in The Record" were used by some of our pioneer parishioners who came to celebrate the tenth year reunion.

I would like to add my personal thanks to the staff of The Record and especially to Monte Dayton, to whom I have submitted publicity for our various affairs for many years. He has been most courteous and helpful always. It has been a pleasure to work with him.

The Fall Festival was a tremendous success, financially, but more important to the committee, socially, and that trite old cliche, "a good time was had by all" was never truer. No small part of this success can be attributed to The Record.

Again, thank you.

Very truly yours,
ISABELLE LIBERTI
Publicity Chairman

TV and Radio

TELE - COLLEGE BEGINS . . . . Have you registered yet? "For what," you ask . . . . "I can't go to college . . . I have small youngsters . . . or I like to stay home in the evenings." But you don't leave your home—you go to college right in your own living room. San Francisco State college is again making its possible for you to take college courses by television. Last week marked the beginning of another experimental series of telecourses over KQED made possible by a grant of $191,965, one of the largest ever given for television research, from the Fund for Advancement of Education (an independent agency of the Ford Foundation). Regular college students will be taking the classes as part of their college curriculum, but the courses are also available to you through the college extension service. What a contrast to early pioneer days when people trudged miles to school, where college was only possible for the wealthy—or even present days when in other states, college means leaving home—to our own Bay Area where we have only to turn a television dial, and there are some of the country's leading professors instructing us right in our own home!

Officials from the college, including their new President, Dr. Glenn S. Dumke who has recently named to KQED's board of directors, were guests at a recent press conference to explain plans for the new series. Telecourses for the coming school year include science, psychology, the American economy, basic communications and creative arts. For further information contact the extension division at San Francisco State college.

So sharpen up your pencils, and get to work! If you don't wish to take any of the teleclasses for credit, why not tune in for your own pleasure and enlightment. Congratulations to San Francisco State and KQED for continuing this worthy project.

TV TOWER OF THE FUTURE . . . . The air space panel of the air co-ordinating committee approved last week KRON-TV's plans for erecting a higher tower and antenna on San Bruno mountain. This is a major and highly significant step toward the ultimate goal of a television tower that will be large enough to support 12 different television antennas. It will rise 564 feet above the ground, and will mean better reception for many areas. Two other stations, KQED and Channel 2, are expected to join KRON-TV on top of the new tower at an early date. Inasmuch as FCC approval has not yet been granted, no estimate can be made as to when the contemplated system will be ready for operation.

Westmoor High's Kick-off Dance Enjoyed By 450

School spirit at its best was evident Friday night as Westmoor high school's first dance of the semester, "Ram Rock" was enjoyed by some 450 students in the school cafeteria.

A gaily decorated dance room, festooned with Westmoor's green and white colors, greeted the dancers. "Hello" cards with students names on them were issued to all as part of the get-acquainted theme.

The music, provided by the latest records, included a mixture of fox trot, bop and specialty dance numbers. Biggest feature was a circle dance, currently popular in the East and becoming prominent out this way.

Tom Panagoulias, Westmoor director of student activities, attributed the "fine turnout" to the overwhelming support in purchasing student body cards. More than 40 percent of Westmoor's students have obtained the cards.

The student executive board presented the dance, with supervision provided by faculty members. Assisting President Bucky Hyers were Ron Bosc, Sharon Warnock, Linda Logan and Allene Downey.

White Cane Drive Spurred By Lions

Daly City-Colma Lions will beat the pavement this Friday and Saturday to do their part in the National "White Cane Days" drive to gain funds for the blind.

All members of the Lions club will be out selling the white canes, under chairmanship of Arnold Panella.

Solid Line

Passing other vehicles on the highway need not be dangerous, if you do it wisely. Never attempt to pass when the solid line is on your side of the highway, says the California State Automobile Association.

Lou Francis Cited By County For Aid On Water Pollution

The San Mateo County Parks and Recreation Commission today thanked Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo for his interest in the water pollution problem off Coyote Point beach and for his efforts to solve the pollution problem in the county.

In a letter signed by Creed B. Haberlin, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, and Ralph H. Shaw, superintendent of parks and recreation, the lawmaker was told, "The San Mateo County Parks and Recreation Commission wishes to thank you for your interest in the water pollution problem off Coyote Point Beach, and to support your action to help solve the same."

"An early solution to this problem will insure the recreational usage of Peninsula Beach located at Coyote Point for a successful swimming season next year, and will also insure the safety of the boat-minded people who are using bay waters off the San Mateo bay shoreline," the letter continued.

At the request of many local residents, Francis stepped in to assist in the solution because at the time considerable confusion existed among county and city officials as to which governmental agency had jurisdiction and responsibility.

Owing to excessive discharging of raw sewage and inadequate sewage disposal facilities in some of the local cities, the Coyote Point beach has been closed and quarantined for the past two summers. Fish have been killed in the bay, paint on buildings has become discolored from hydrogen sulphide, and the local area permeated with obnoxious odors.

PRINCIPAL REPORTS

Colma 7-8 School Has 650 Kids, 31 Teachers

The Colma intermediate school, located at Hillside and Market streets in Daly City, opened its doors to approximately 650 seventh and eighth grade students. An almost veteran faculty of 29 full-time and two part-time teachers, a principal and vice-principal is working with the students this year. Of this faculty, only three regular classroom and two special-area teachers are replacements.

According to Dr. B. W. Gerdes, Colma principal, the first two weeks of school were among the most fruitful and certainly the most orderly opening weeks he has experienced. "Both teachers and students did an outstanding job of getting school underway without delay, and the cooperation and conduct of the students was most exemplary," he said.

Parents will be invited to come to the school during an evening in the next couple of weeks to participate in a new unit introduced for the first time this fall. This new unit, "Orientation to Colma School," has been presented to students in the social studies classes during the first two weeks. A student handbook, prepared last spring and summer through the efforts of both students and teachers, serves as the basic source of information. This unit has given students and teachers a greater knowledge and understanding of Colma school, according to Gerdes. He states that the faculty wishes to extend this opportunity for greater knowledge and understanding to parents of the boys and girls, and the best manner of getting this is to meet at school with those working with the children.

Parents are urged to study the student handbook with their children prior to the meeting, and to be prepared to ask questions which the handbook does not answer.

Almost 1000 Visitors Attend OLPH Festival

Visitors to the tree-day Fall Festival given by Our Lady of Perpetual Help church last week end numbered almost a thousand. Some 500 people enjoyed the delicious ham dinner prepared by Mrs. William J. Drury, assisted by Mrs. Edwin Kollman and a large group of willing helpers, on Sunday afternoon.

Newcomers were welcomed during the festival and the tenth reunion theme brought out many old-timers. Mrs. John Margaret Steele claimed the honor of being the oldest parishioner in time, not age. She was born here in 1882 in the section of Daly City now known as Westlake. It was, at that time, ranchland. Mrs. Steele is a member of the well-known Callan family. She was Margaret Callan before her marriage. She is the mother of thre daughters and one son, and grandmother of eleven children. Her daughter, Julia, is a resident of Broadmoor; and daughter Ann resides in Daly City.

Mrs. Steele was showered with several gifts and received the well-wishes and congratulations of everyone, especially the younger men and women who were her "children' when she was in charge of the OLPH cafeteria, which she organized when the new school was opened in 1947.

Also honored with gifts and acclaim were Mrs. H. H. Smith, Elias Wille, Mrs. Shaw and Mr. Nelson, all of whom have been residents of Daly City since 1908. Nelson, who is 91 years old, was present at the festival but since he left early, Mrs. Nelson received a gift in his name.

Mrs. Fred Klingler, claimed the honor of being the second oldest parishioner since she has been a resident of Daly City since 1905. Mrs. Klingler, nee Sophie Spanni, is the older sister of Mrs. Melvin Battye, and the aunt of Mrs. Arnold Panella, whose husbands are still in business here. She has one son, Gene, who is a graduate of OLPH school.

Also receiving gifts were Mrs. William Konevich and Mrs. Louis Theibaut, who, as graduates of the class of 1937, were the oldest OLPH graduates present Sunday night at the festival.

The largest family present Friday night, "Family Night," were Mr. and Mrs. William Brouwer and their five youngsters. They received many useful gifts as well as 74 cents with which to take their family to the movies that evening. Edward Denning, father of Elizabeth, just ten days old, received a piggy bank for his daughter, since she was the youngest parishioner. Denning, a graduate of OLPH, class of 1940, has four other children and was happy to receive the piggy bank which his many well-wishers filled with pennies.

Father James C. Bergin, Father Joseph Garrity and George Calegari, general chairman for the festival, received many congratulations on the success of the event. Calegari, in turn, expressed his gratitude to his many workers, as well as to the people of Daly City, who turned out in droves to help make this Tenth Year Reunion festival an outstanding success, both from a social and financial point of view.

The proceeds will be used for the parish building fund.

MISS BEMIS KINDERGARTEN

"Good morning, boys and girls." The first week of school is such a trial for these newcomers. But within minutes of their first arrival to school they are busily buzzing about the room, exploring their new environment. The doll house may seem very inviting to some of them, while the blocks are a big challenge to others.

Already, the children are bringing interesting little specimens into the classroom. Grasshoppers, spiders, caterpillars, and starfish are the main attractions. Our two pet fish and turtles are a definite structure in the room now. We are learning to care for them. Feeding the turtle is much fun and yet we are learning at the same time.

We love outdoor play, too. Swinging is fun for all, so we are learning to take turns. We all want to have good manners.

We will say goodbye for now. There will be more news later.

MRS. BUSETTO SIXTH GRADE

We are studying Latin America for Social Studies, but Mexico is our special subject now. We have some handicrafts in our room from Mexico. We are studying news articles, geography, industry and Mexican History.

We have elected our class monitors, officers and representatives. The officers are: President, Richard Anderson; Vice President, Jerrold Ball; Secretary, Marie Horn. Our Athletic Representatives are, Richard Anderson and Dickee Lu Norwood; Treasurer, Toni Matteucci; Milk Monitor, Karen Peterson; Room Monitor and Flag Saluter, Alfred Banfield; Ball Monitors, Dennis Taylor and Albert Ferrando.

We will have thirty words in our Friday spelling list, but our regular spelling list is 24 words. We had a review test on multiplication, division, addition and subtraction. We did reading and dividing words into groups.

Break Precedent

Snell PTA Names Life Member

James L. Snell PTA broke with tradition last week by presenting an honorary life membership at the start of the PTA year to Mrs. John D. Mitchell who, because of moving from the community, resigned as president at the unit's first meeting. Such memberships are customarily awarded on Founders Day in February. Mrs. Fred Smith, vice president, was installed in office, and will serve as president for the balance of the year.

Approximately 250 members, meeting in the multipurpose room of Benjamin Franklin school, viewed a film of "Your PTA at Work in San Mateo County," with some local scenes included. The film was made by Mrs. Lawrence Prager, director of communications for the 17th District, CCPT.

As far as unit members were concerned, a recreation program does not stop when school starts, for they voted to sponsor such a program throughout the winter at Benjamin Franklin in cooperation with the JESD and the Daly City recreation department. It was also voted that the PTA continue to assist in sponsoring the summer and winter recreation programs for next year.

Mrs. Jack Bertken, chairman of the civil defense committee, spoke briefly on identification tags for children. The unit voted to sponsor this project.

Dr. Harold Taggart, dean of education at College of San Mateo, received a blanket endorsement of the proposed college bonds after he spoke, estimating that $600,000 would be spent at a later date for a college site in the northern end of the county, and urging all to vote on October 15.

The agenda included the approval of a large budget, covering the phases of PTA work for Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin schools.

Getting acquainted was the main feature of the evening, with all PTA officers and chairmen being introduced. Miss Aileen Suber, principal of Garden Village, Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal of Vista Mar and Olympia, and Fred Schweickhardt, principal of Vista Mar and Olympia, and Fred Schweickhardt, principal of Benjamin Franklin, presented the teachers on their respective staffs.

Textbooks for the curriculum of each grade were eye-catchers displayed by Mrs. Alex Spieller, school education chairman, and PTA publications and magazines were shown by publications chairmen Mrs. Edward Morgan and Mrs. Harry Aronson.

A membership drive, headed by Mrs. M. M. Eastman and Mrs. Harry Puddy, was announced, and plans were made for 100 per cent participation. Bill Beck, cubmaster of Cub Pack 259, was presented with a token of appreciation for the service he gave the PTA and the community. Mrs. Lawrence Phillips and Mrs. Donald Hurst, hospitality chairmen, were responsible for decorations and refreshments.

'WILD' ANIMALS TO BE CAGED IN STORE WINDOW

Wild animals will make their appearance in the windows of the J. C. Penney store in Westlake, according to an announcement by Don Davis, manager.

Davis said he has borrowed the imported wild animals (stuffed) from the extensive European imports of Henry Doelger and will feature them during his "Circus of Values" sale to be presented this week, Wednesday through Saturday.

The authentic animals, imported directly from Europe by Doelger, will make their premier in the show windows of the Westlake department store, Davis said. The selection is representative of the huge collection of Doelger, Davis stated.

PTA Learns: What To Do In Disaster

Do you know what your school personnel and municipal employees are doing to protect you in case of sudden attack or natural disaster? Using a film to illustrate the awesome force of an atomic attack, Battalion Chief Frank Specht of the Daly City fire department outlined the local plans for civilian defense at the first unit meeting of the Woodrow Wilson PTA this week. In presenting the many problems confronting a civilian defense group, Chief Specht stressed the need for more volunteers from the community. He also reminded the group of the junior fire marshal campaign conducted each October in the schools.

Pointing back to the March 22 earthquake, school principal Mrs. E. Hahn explained some of the school plans in time of disaster.

Peter Markovich spoke on the San Mateo Junior college bond election, October 15, and urged a "Yes" vote.

The evening program featured the introduction of the school faculty by Mrs. Hahn. She announced that Woodrow Wilson school was selected to teach sightless children from north San Mateo county. Mrs. H. Sundman is the special teacher in charge of this new class, and Mrs. Hahn pointed with pride to the excellent progress already being made by the children.

In appreciation of her efforts in PTA work, Mrs. John Spittler was presented with a past-president's pin.

WHEN OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY

By Joan Taylor

When our hearts were young and gay everything was grist for the mill! My husband and I could meet any emergency with a carefree heart and a gay bravado. As my husband is a portrait painter by profession, our income depended upon his commissions. Consequently, it was a merry-go-round of moves and it was fun too. We did our own packing, and the old, gold candelabra, inherited from my great-great-grandmother, was always tenderly wrapped in my old, soft seal-skin coat, so that no harm would come to it. We did our own moving too, hiring a 2-ton truck with hydraulic lifts, barnstorming a town with all of our earthly possessions bulging over the sides of the truck, while we sat in the cabin with a steady eye and a stout heart.

Alas—all that is over, we have both reached a new plateau. We are over forty. Life can begin again at forty, but not without the assistance of the Market Street Van & Storage, located at 1875 Mission Street, in San Francisco. When we move now we move the "Allied Van Lines way." Now there's no hustle, no bustle, and everything is made easy for us by the very competent staff of the Market Street Van & Storage Company.

Navy Vets 'Will' Attend Schools, Recruiter Says

Chief Leo Polhemus, U. S. Navy recruiter here, announces that certain former regular Navy personnel eligible for reenlistment, assignment to the Navy's Class A, B and C schools can be guaranteed.

Chief Polhemus said that until recently, recruiters have been forced to talk in rather general terms when a prospective re-enlistee inquired as to the possibility of being ordered directly to school after reenlistment. This is no longer the case.

Chief Polhemus feels that many of the men who could not be persuaded to reenlist on the basis that "he would be able to get a school once he was at his first duty station," will now be eager to come back in the Navy for immediate assignment to a school.

It should be emphasized that the Navy is looking for high caliber men to man the modernized fleet of today. This new program, aside from increasing reenlistments, is an important addition to the Navy's policy of selective reenlistments and enlistments.

Many different categories are open in the technical fields. The electronics, aviation and nucleonics fields are wide open. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Navy recruiting station, 6701 Mission street, Daly City, or call PL 6-3740.

Ram Tales

by Ron Bosc

We really had a terrific sell-out for our first dance Friday. The kids showed a lot of school spirit. Approximately 450 students attended. Theme of the dance was "Welcome to Westmoor," and the reason for it was so that every one could get acquainted.

We owe our thanks to Tom Panagoulias, faculty advisor; the decoration committee, Roger Thomelson, Dave Haberman, Sally Lucus, Bev Saunders and Linda Mastterson; and to the ticket sales committee, Sharon Warnock, Linda Logan and Eilleen Downey.

We are trying to get a student poll on favorite tunes in order to purchase new records. We are also beginning to plan our student handbook.

I. D. pictures were taken last Thursday (girls) and Friday (boys). These pictures are sold for students to exchange with each other and they also will be on our student body cards. The student body cards are selling fast. They will get the students into Skateland, Rolladium, Sutro's, San Francisco Ice Rink, some theaters, Seals stadium, city games, Jefferson swimming pool, Santa Cruz, Foust pool, Russian river, Clear Lake, Crystal Plunge, North Beach pool and Fleishhacker pool, all at cut rates. In addition they entitle the students free admission to Westmoor games, executive board dances, and other school activities.

San Mateo County Gets $95,086 Kitty For Road Projects

An additional apportionment of $2,567,154 state and federal funds for federal aid secondary county road work was announced recently by the State Department of Public Works.

This new apportionment was made possible by Chapter 2402, Statutes of 1957, which Governor Goodwin J. Knight approved July 15.

The action raises to $14,575,385 the total of federal and state funds available for county roads on the federal aid secondary system for the fiscal year 1957-58, as apportioned by the California Highway Commission.

For San Mateo county, the increase includes $6200 in federal funds and $4418 in state matching funds, a total increase of $10,618. This brings the total apportionment for the county for 1957-58 to $95,086, made up of $55,521 federal and $39,565 state funds.

Lake Merced District Scouts Await 'Roundup Rally' In SF

Lake Merced District Scouts will stage a "Roundup Rally" for all boys between the ages of 11 and 13 at Ocean View playground, Capitol avenue and Minerva street, on Saturday, October 12, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The rally is part of a city-wide Scouting activity to give Scouts the opportunity to share their fun with boys who are not Scouts by participating with them in a "field day" type program. The rally, one of a series of seven to be held in San Francisco, is part of a nation-wide effort to make the Scout program available to more boys.

Following registration at 10 a.m., Scouts will participate with their non-Scout "buddies" in such events as tug of war, antelope race, knot-tying relay, chariot race, centipede race and compass relay.

Boys are asked to bring their own bag lunch, and free drinks will be provided.

Each Troop in the district will set up its own "headquarters" at the rally field which will be identified with a sign indicating Troop number, meeting place time, and the organization that sponsors the group. Here fathers of the boys, who will be special guests, will have a chance to meet Troop leaders, and boys may secure more information about the Troop of their choice.

Public and parochial schools are cooperating with the Scout Council by displaying rally posters and providing for brief after-school assemblies to invite boys of Scout age to attend the rallies.

George Phipps, assistant manager at Safeway Super Market, 910 Mission Road, South San Francisco, congratulates Mrs. Arel W. Barrier, 41 Lakewood drive, Westlake, on her good fortune of being one of the 100 finalists in the Pillsbury Grand National Bake Off Contest. Final judging will be held October 14-15 at the Beverly Hilton hotel, Los Angeles. Mrs. Berrier not only wins the all-expense trip to Los Angeles, but also $100, a General Electric range and mixer. Her son, Brett, 18 months, appears quite satisfied.

Roundup Rally Will Recruit New Boys Into Scouts

The fall Roundup Rally, a field day of fun and games designed to recruit new boys into existing Boy Scout Troops in the Lake Merced district, is set for Saturday, October 12, at Ocean View Playground, Capitol and Minerva streets.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. the "roundup of all mavericks who don't know the sport they're missing" will go along in a swift paced schedule of competitions and skills, according to District Scout Commissioner Howard Stites. "Bring a Buddy" is the theme and open recruiting of boys of troop ages (11 years through 16) will be the main order of business.

Competition among patrols will involve uniformed Boy Scouts and their non-uniformed friends in antelope races, compass relays, chariot races, fire-by-flint building, knot tying relays, broad jumps and a tug-of-war. A committee headed by Don Ashe has been named by Stites to run the events.

Boys and their dads will bring bag lunches, enjoy free soda pop, and participate in impressive flag ceremonies.

Westlake Man, 44, Dies Taking Shower

Lawrence Mecchi, 44, of 150 Westlawn avenue, collapsed and died early Tuesday morning while he was taking a shower in his Westlake home.

All Officialdom Summoned To Signals Meeting

Government officials, from city councilmen on up to Gov. Goodwin Knight, are being invited to the Westlake Improvement association's October 7 meeting to push for traffic signals at two dangerous Skyline boulevard intersections.

Ed Murphy, WIA director, said he anticipated some 250 Westlake Palisades residents would turn out to lend their oral weight to the drive for signals on Westridge and Westmoor intersections.

The state division of highways earlier truned down a request for signals at the two intersections, but is now resurveying the critical area to determine if traffic signals are warranted.

Funds for the project, however, would not be available this fiscal year, according to the state.

The WIA is seeking to push the signals through this year.

'Children, Youth Sunday' Slated At Hope Lutheran

Next Sunday the parish education staff of Hope Lutheran church has planned a "Children and Youth Sunday." The day's events will begin with a Sunday school rally day service at 9:30 a.m. This will be the last time during the current year that students will meet with their teachers before promotion into higher classes.

At 11 a.m. The Rev. Louis Marting, pastor, will conduct a family worship service. Children and parents will attend and hear a message from the Fourth Commandment dealing with the subject "What Parents Owe Their Youth and What Youth Owe Their Parents." For this festival service the choir will begin its fall season by singing the anthem, "O God Of Youth."

During this service the following will be installed as the Sunday school staff: Beverly Lyons, Grace Marting, Maverly Dodge, Margaret Richter, Verona Williams, Anita Giese, Mildred Nichols, Florence Fielding, Armand Giese, Sherwood Tucker, Herbert Stettler, (superintendent), Dale Williams, Ernest Beck, Paul Rowe and Elsie Espen.

San Bruno Park will be the site for a church picnic beginning at 1 p.m. The committee announced that prizes will be given, with special awards for the children. Free punch and ice cream will be provided for the children.

SCOUT DISTRICT HONORS SCHOOL AIDES OCTOBER 8

School principals and administrators of the Westlake-Lake Merced area will be honored guests at a dinner meeting of the Lake Merced District Scout committee at Rickey's Red Chimney Tuesday, October 8, at 6:30 p.m.

Planned "as a tribute to the educators for their continuing support and cooperation with all phases of Scouting, including the Cubs, Boy Scouts and Sea and Explorer units," the program will feature a discussion by Walter Heller, president of the SF Scout Council, who is one of the most highly honored volunteer youth leaders in the nation.

Al C. Beerbower, chairman of the district Scouting planners, said the special meeting, with members of his volunteer Scouting leaders serving as personal escorts to the honored guests, will "provide opportunity for our unsung heroes, the first citizens of the school system, to become better acquainted with the local Scouting program and its need to grow among our youth."

The next Star-Life rank board of review will be held this Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Homewood Terrace, for all candidates whose papers are on file at Council headquarters.

Lutheran Women In South SF Meeting

A joint meeting of Westminster Fellowship women of Westlake Lutheran and Norweigan Lutheran churches was held recently at the home of Walter Johnson, 334 Holly street, South San Francisco.

A radio skit on "Missionary Work At Home" was performed by members of both churches.

Attending from Westlake were, the Mesdames: Roc Ross, Martin Janssen, Richmond Howard, Alpha Joranson, Herb Kraling, Maria Lowery, Vera Lee, Kenneth Bervin, Fletcher Vivson, Charles Christian, John Yambert, Winfield Scott, and Miss Kay Wooster.

Mrs. Robert Selmer of Norweigan Lutheran gave the Bible study. The Rev. P. N. Oklevik also attended.

EDITOR BYFIELD GUEST PREACHER AT ST. MARTIN'S

Guest preacher at St. Martin's Episcopal church this Sunday will be the Rev. Canon Byfield, editor of "Pacific Churchman," monthly magazine of the Episcopal Diocese of California, and diocesan director of Christian education, with offices at Grace Cathedral, San Francisco.

Classmate of St. Martin's vicar, the Rev. Allen J. Downey, at Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, the Rev. Byfield won a national award for his preaching in 1953. He was formerly vicar of St. Thomas' church, Sunnyvale. Before he entered the ministry, he was editor of the San Luis Obispo Reporter and news editor of the Inyo Register, Bishop, California.

Canon Byfield will officiate at holy communion, 8 a.m., family service and church school, 9:30 a.m., and morning prayer, 11 a.m., all of which are held in Westlake auditorium, 33 Park Plaza drive, during construction of the new church building at Southgate avenue and Bradley drive.

To Expand Youth Fellowship Unit At B'moor Church

Reverend Herbert Tweedie, new minister of Broadmoor Presbyterian church, announces plans for expanding the Westminster Fellowship into an even larger educational medium.

In describing a Junior High group, encompassing seventh and eighth grade students, he said, "By instituting a younger Fellowship we can better prepare these students for the sudden leap into high school, which, as we can all remember, is quite a plunge."

This Sunday, the existing high school age group will hold its regular Sunday evening meeting at 6:45 o'clock, at the church, 87th street in Colma.

This will be a special event for the young people. By way of acknowledging Christian Education Sunday, on the church calender, also known as Rally Day, they will present a program for the benefit of their invited parents, officers of the church, and interested visitors.

Helen Patteson, president of the group, will lead the teenagers in a typical Fellowship meeting, augmented by special songs and skits, and a film strip which helps to explain the world-wide work of the Westminster Fellowship.

Refreshments will be served in the church social hall immediately after the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Holman of Westlake are adult advisors to the group.

COLLEGE BOARD ASSURES C OF C ON NO. CAMPUS

A north San Mateo county junior college campus will be established, a recent letter from the SMJC board president assured the Daly City Chamber of Commerce.

Eleanore D. Nettle, president of the board, answered a Chamber inquiry about the north county campus as follows: "The acquisition of a northern site is not a new issue for the board. The citizens advisory committee made a recommendation as follows: 'The district should immediately acquire a site of not less than 85 usable acres for a northern campus.'"

Mrs. Nettle said this recommendation was upheld by the board at its July 15 meeting.

The board hopes to appoint a committee to select the north county site at its October 9 meeting, she added.

Funds for the north county site will come from bonds which will up for voter approval October 15.

Superior Judge Gives Pack 240 Charter

Cub Pack 240, sponsored by the Daly City Rotary club, held its first fall meeting recently with Superior Judge Frank Blum presenting the new charter to committee chairman Sid Jacobs.

The inspection trophy was awarded to Den 2 while Den 3 was awarded the attendance trophy.

Due to a turnover during the summer, the pack is interested in recruiting new members. Those interested may call Cubmaster Al Masterpole, PL 6-2343, or Jacobs, PL 5-5019, for information.

THE BODY BEAUTIFUL
By Joan Taylor

Possibly Marilyn Monroe would still be recognized as the sweet, loveable kid she is without that warm form, or Gina Lollobrigida's charming personality would still shine through without her other zesty, chesty attributes. Sure—and maybe cows can fly!

We can't fight it—the age of physical beauty is here. Take for example, today's picture of domesticity. She's nothing unless she's set in a nice frame. Not only is she expected to bake a mean apple pie, but must also be quite a dish herself. Let's face it—good form is here to stay! Otherwise, judges wouldn't even bother with the tape measure, and the girdle business couldn't have stretched into the bulging success it is today. All life is geared to the classy chassis—

And speaking of chassis' take a look at that body of yours—What shape is it in? Perhaps you need to cultivate soft curves, or to eliminate ugly bulges—perhaps you need to improve your posture, or to gain energy, vitality and a sense of well being. Whatever your particular need may be, the American Health Studios, and Silhouette International for Ladies, at 48 Golden Gate, in San Francisco, has the answer for you,—for they will give you the correct, modern and scientific treatment for your body's needs. Why not visit the American Health Studios today? You will be rewarded in good health and well being.

Alameda 11 Big Choice Over Jefferson Today

Tapia-Led Tribe Will Rely On Air Tactics

By Roy Hurlbert

Jefferson's upset-minded Indian gridders plan to unleash a heavy air attack this Friday afternoon when they haul out the welcome mat for mighty Encinal High of Alameda.

The season-opening practice game starts at 3 o'clock on the Jeff gridiron with Coach Joe McGrath's eleven a lopsided underdog.

Skipper Jim Marberry's invaders are loaded with vets and their second advantage is having a game under their belts.

Strong Debut

The East Bayers frightened their Alameda County Athletic League rivals but good last Friday, battling top-touted Alameda High to a 20-20 standoff. McGrath viewed the battle and knows his boys face a powerhouse this Friday.

Outweighed and less experienced in the line, Jeff might be able to minimize the odds if Senior Paul Tapia is "on target" with his passes.

Paul has the ability and the mates to break up any game via the air. He'll be tossing plenty to starting ends Bob Berry and Pete Garcia, not to mention his quick-footed halfbacks, Sonny Martinez and Art Banos

Martinez, a 150-pound trackman, is explosive. If he gets daylight up front, he'll be gone. Banos, one of three sophs starting for the Indians, can do likewise. He's liable to get away for the full distance.

Lena Powerful

Jeff's ball-carrying power is in the hands of fullback Pat Lena, 185 pounds of hard-hitting muscle. Pat banged his shoulder in scrimmage Saturday, but McGrath thinks he'll be ready. Jim Ahern and Herb Dirks play behind Pat.

McGrath's concern about his inner line is justified. He has neither depth nor experience to write home about.

Unexpected loss of linemen Pete Rogerson and John Finley, two seniors, has sliced the reserve line strength. Both quit.

Joe thus promoted junior John Dean, 160, and soph Bob Nielson, 175, to starting tackle assignments. Another sophomore, Bill Dixon, 185, will be at center. The coach expects much from this trio.

Senior Guards

Guards Dwayne Cook, 185, and Neil Dunsford, 170, both seniors, can hold the fort.

But injuries to any of the front men would be disastrous.

Jim Kennedy, 155, and Vic Lewkowitz, 150, are the QB reserves. Tapia, however, may have to go the route—Friday and all season.

Defensively, the head man will have Gary Ryan and Berry at ends, Cook and Nielson at tackles, and Dunsford at middle guard.

Linebacking, left to right, will be Dean, Kennedy and Dirks. Further back at halves will be Garcia and Barry Haanen. The fleet Martinez is the safetyman.

TAG FOOTBALL LEAGUES SET BY REC DEPT.

Two touch-football leagues are being organized by the DC parks and recreation department for youngsters in the intermediate and high school grades.

An organizational meeting of team captains and managers is scheduled this Saturday morning, 10 o'clock, at War Memorial building, 144 Hillside boulevard. Boys interested in playing are urged to attend.

The loop for sixth, seventh and eighth graders will begin on Saturday, October 5. Games will be played at Westlake park and Colma school.

Each team will have an 18-player limit. Footballs will be supplied by the recreation department. No cleats, spikes or any spike-type shoes may be used.

Roster sheets will be issued by the recreation department.

All high school boys who aren't playing now on school teams are eligible for the second league, with action set for Saturday afternoons. These games also will be staged at Westlake park and Colma's Trojan field. Team captains and managers are requested to attend the War Memorial meeting this Saturday morning.

Jaywalking Costly

Jaywalking cost 3,170 persons their lives in the United States during 1956, reports the National Automobile Club.

CAL PUBLICIST REALLY 'GOOFS' ON JEFF TALENT

By R. H.

Someone in University of California's massive athletic publicity office "goofed" badly this week in issuing press releases on a bumper crop of prize baseball freshmen at the Berkeley school.

The releases, printed in papers throughout the Bay Area, listed LOS ANGELES and not DALY CITY as the high school stomping grounds of Jeff High's Tom Cloutier, Bill Strassburger and Mike Wedlake.

Let it be known that the UC publicist is misleading the public.

Jeff High of DALY CITY does not like to have its finest sons misrepresented. Especially when a burg like LA is involved.

INDIAN YEARLINGS DRILL FOR OPENER

Forty-nine huskies are sweating for starting assignments on Bob Watt's Jefferson High freshman football eleven.

The Indian yearlings open Peninsula League play on October 10 at Burlingame.

Last season, Watt's frosh-sophs posted a 1-5-1 record in the North PAL. His best performers were sophs Pete Garcia and Jerry Kennedy, both backfielders.

Frosh Only

For the first time, the PAL will have an all-freshman loop this fall. Although it's hard to predict what the first year kids will do, Watt is confident of a good season.

Chant in the Watt camp, of course, is "Beat Westmoor." The young Indians face their crosstown rivals at Jeff on October 24.

Watt is teaching his flock the spread T, with emphasis on flankers.

He has two potentially top quarterbacks in Tom McEntee and Jim Pfennig.

Ball Carriers

Ray Jaiver and Colma's Jim Lofrano look promising at halfbacks. Leo Sineath is the best so far at fullback.

Watt's starting line to date consists of ends Ira Ingersoll and John Junglas, tackles Gary Monyhun and Sam Ayala, guards Bob Aita and Ed Crowley, and Rich Guzzo at center.

Motor vehicle manufacturing employed 800,000 workers in the United States during 1956, reports the National Automobile Club. This represented a drop of 96,500 from the 1955 level.

Rams Favored At Willow Glen

Unless they fail to meet surprise expectations, Westmoor High's Rams should roll to their first 1957 varsity football victory this Friday afternoon when they swing into action against Willow Glen at San Jose.

Coach Pete Matisi's squad, kicking off its first varsity year, rules the favorite over what Coach Bob Berry calls "one of my weakest teams in years."

Scribes are picking the WG eleven to finish near the bottom of the South Peninsula League this year. And Berry hasn't challenged the preseason billing.

Rams Dangerous?

Westmoor, on the other hand, is a definite darkhorse in the Peninsula League, mainly because Matisi's line could be the class of the circuit.

Reports on Matisi's big line have lifted eyebrows throughout the Peninsula. He doesn't have much depth, though, and the Westmoor backfield is an unknown quantity.

Willow Glen will be giving away weight at all key line spots. Speed may be the main part of the winning formula in high school ball, but exceptional weight and mobility of big lads never hurt the cause.

Westmoor's bruisers are anchored by tackles Mike Abrahamson, 220, and Jim Lansing, 215. Mike's a battle-happy senior from Minnesota. Jim is a prize junior prospect.

Watch Giomi

Guards Paul Giomi, 170 and headed for prep greatness, and Bob Simi, 202, may have no equals in the PAL. They are that good, according to Line Coaches Will Stensland and Floyd Gonella.

Matisi has two fair pass grabbers in ends Ray West and Sid Swanson. Big Bob Woodworth, light and lean, is an alternate.

Running the club at QB is Dave Simons, a junior with steady hands and nerves to match.

Junior Larry Schoenfeldt, 195, and Leo "Sideburns" Wyrick, a scooter at 155, will share the ball carrying capers with fullback Larry Harper, 180.

Berry limits his praise to "two senior guards, Tom Conom and Gordy Dahl, and a dashing fullback, Jan Gerrard.

Five Seniors

Five of Willow Glen's regulars are playing their final season. None saw much action last year when the San Jose team finished with a 4-4 record.

Two buses will leave Westmoor High at 2:15 this Friday for the San Jose gridiron.

Matisi is anxious to learn how his boys will act in the opener. Next week the Rams travel to face Capuchino, the team "with everything," in their Peninsula League inaugural.

CLOSE MARCHBANKS DIAMOND 60 DAYS

Marchbanks park hardball diamond will be closed next Tuesday to undergo extensive improvements which will take about 60 days.

The work, which Recreation Director Dee Van Nest said "should have been done a year ago," will include refurbishing the dugout, resurfacing the infield, replacing of sod and improving the pitcher's mound. The area will also be re-seeded.

The work will be done by city crews and costs will be held at a minimum, Van Nest said.

Van Nest Tells Park Schedule

Dee R. Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation, announces that school and city recreation facilities are open after school from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays from 10 to 3:30.

Recreation supervisors, by sites:

War Memorial, Rich Watso and Harry Aronson; Marchbanks park, Don Coder; Lincoln playground, Bill Short; Frankfort park, Bruce Graziani; Westlake park, Mike Sibitz; Ben Franklin, John Belforte; Colma, Tom Pollicita; Crocker, Marie Caracciolo; Jefferson Elementary, Barbara Santucci; Westlake school, Kenneth Rice; Olympia school, Jeanne Ann Peasley.

JEFFERSON LIGHTWEIGHT CAGERS IMPRESSIVE IN PRACTICE TILTS

With two productive games under their belts, Jeff High's lightweight cagers are loaded with promise as they drill for forthcoming Peninsula League competition.

In their practice opener last Thursday, Coach Mike Orlich's 10's tripped Lincoln of SF, 22-15, and the Indian 20's downed the Mustangs, 33-20.

This Tuesday, the Jeff 10's edged invading Washington of SF, 35-32. The visiting 20's, however, overcame a 10-point deficit to nip the locals, 37-35.

Forward Joe Vaez and guard Sonny Stoller were high scorers for the 10's in the two games. Vaez pumped in 8 points against Lincoln. Stoller got 13 in the Washington game.

Ralph Caloiara, a guard, and Rich Mortola, speedy forward, led the 20's in the two tilts. Ralph was high in the initial battle with 9. Rich bagged 13 points in the second encounter.

Orlich's 10's are paced by first stringers Vaez and Mike Schultz, forwards; Bob With, center, and Buddy Radoff and Stoller, guards. Reserves are forwards Charles Alello and Ron Rivera, guard Mike Kennedy, and center Norman Day.

J. B. Berry teams with Mortola as starting 20's forwards. Tony DeVirgilio is at center, and Mike Brush and Caloiara handle guard duty.

Orlich says three fine newcomers should give his 20's championship depth. These are guards Ron Rose and Pat Bell, and forward Gary Molossi, "a kid with tremendous potential."

The Indian fives met Sacred Heart on Wednesday. Poly High is the final practice foe here Tuesday. Westmoor invades the Jeff gym two days later in the Peninsula League opener for both schools.

A MERE LAD OF 14

W'moor Frosh Is 6-5½, 263 Lbs.

Beefed by a mammoth kid who may be the nation's biggest freshman football player, Westmoor High's frosh grid squad might sweep all the marbles in the Peninsula League this fall.

Coach Rod Losberger, normally conservative, is sky high on his eleven's chances in loop action.

Westmoor figures to rate country-wide publicity on its "big boy," tackle-guard Bob Villines, just 14 years old, 6 feet-5½ inches, and a walloping 263 pounds.

He's Normal

"This lad is no freak," beamed Losberger as he watched the giant move downfield in practice. "He handles himself well, and I'm sure he'll become a mighty fine football player."

Villines will play middle guard on defense for the Ram yearlings.

"Actually," Losberger continued, "he's practically a line in himself."

"Not that Villines will be a one-man team, however," the coach added. "My backs, especially QB Bruce Howard, look very good, and if my line stays healthy, we'll be right up among the contenders."

Howard, a real "take charge" lad, has all the earmarks of a varsity mainstay. He runs, kicks and passes equally well. The signal-caller tips the scales at 155.

Big Ron Dudley, 175, and scooter Randy Wyrick (his brother's on the Ram varsity), 140, are running well from the halfback slots.

Two Fullbacks

Fullback is being contested by George Cozad, 145, and Jim Kennedy, 140.

Losberger has experienced a jinx with his end candidates. The two best boys, Jack Lewetzou and Ed Feliciano, have missed a few drills. Jack broke three toes and Ed has been bedded down with Asian flu.

Pushing hard to fill these temporary vacancies are Jim Garadis, 145, and Bob Snyder, 135.

Andy Saranchock, 135, and Dave Davis, 150, are light but dependable at tackle.

Jim Wade, 5-10 and 145, is hogging the center position.

Guards are Larry Siegell, 140, and Roger Austin, 135. Losberger describes the former as his best tackle.

The Rams entertain South City next Thursday afternoon as PAL play begins. Next come Capuchino, Jeff and Hillsdale. Losberger is trying to fill an open date with Riordan High's yearlings.
